

About Us

Allied Logistics, Inc., is a full service provider of logistics and transportation services focused on providing our customers with the most responsible, reliable, and responsive, 3PL services available. Our company places special attention on delivering value added services to our shipper and carrier customers to help them achieve their goals.

Allied Logistics was founded by Milton Kirby, a certified Public Accountant (CPA), Milton left corporate America after acquiring a small fleet of trucks in the mid 1990s. The acquisition turned into a nine year long-haul trucking business, which was sold in 2004 to open Allied Logistics, Inc. Immediately after forming Allied, Milton adopted the use of strategic alliances as a growth strategy.

Today, Allied Logistics has a reputation built on excellence in logistics for providing comprehensive supply chain solutions for customers in both traditional and nontraditional industries. Allied understands the vital role its services play in a customer's business and has the capacity to plan and immediately implement supply-chain solutions. Allied's experienced team of professionals excel at providing customized transportation services to industries of all types.
